Search Report

Know the status of pledge collateral

Search Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) records filed in U.S. States to reveal any other individuals or entities that have filed a lien against collateral pledged on a loan.

Available:  Web Based  Batch  API

What does it do?

Search Uniform Commercial Code (UCC) records filed in various U.S. States to reveal any other individuals or entities that have filed a lien against collateral pledged on a loan.

After conducting the initial UCC search, additional details may also be retrieved for any matched record and UCC filing.

The data is delivered in two forms, a simple search and more comprehensive report. Information returned includes:

- Debtor name and address
- Filing state and date files
- Original date and number
- Document number
- Legal type
- Secured parties*
- Debtor parties*
- Secured party's name
- Secured party's address
- Filings
- Filings

*Search returns only a count. Individual items are only available in the full UCC filing's report.

What is it used for?

Useful for verifying the state of collateral assets for loan originations. In addition because debtors often have liens through commercial institutions UCC filings can be helpful for skip tracing purposes as well.
